

24. Jan. 1988

FAKTA

Dato:

24. Jan. 1988

Sidetæl:

Notes 86 s. 58-59

i en sammenheng en helhet

glømf

19/1/88

Du de strukturelle
åbne bånd i like i en boks
-serer sig for tegn til
15. fra min utv. av kunst på billedet eller et for Billedet som rom-
-rom - et as utv. av kunst kanskje mer - evnt utv. av
-ling av museens betyd-
U.S.A. (Fotografert av Juron).

SEVERINI

glømf

24/1/88

Er maleriet, et
rom uafhengig av det
omgi vnt de rom?
F. Steller mens-
at maleriet skal være
sig - sit eget rom be-
-ydet det selv og
artisten selv.

Hans Skjerve:
"By shaping its own
space, painting makes
itself an independent
with architecture, com-peting directly with it for control of the available space."

"- the spatial ex-
-pression of a painting should not seem to
end at the painting ed-

KILDER TIL
DANSK
KUNSTHISTORIE

NY CARLSBERGFONDET

- yes, or be boxed in
by the picture plane.
The necessity of creating pictorial space
that is capable of
dissolving its own
perimeter and surface
is the problem
that modern painting
was born with. No
one helped lighten
this burden more
than Caravaggio.

"The biggest change
was made by giving painting its own space. He (Carav-aggio) freed painting
from architecture and
decoration, and pointed out what

painting's proper rela-tionship to patrons
- if both clerical and
private should be.
But most im-portant, he chastised
the vain artists who
-ld have to think
about themselves and their work; he made
the studio a place of
music and mystery,
a "cathedral of
the self"

off on p

1/2/88

~~Mark made the picture
das Kunst nicht ist
was das ist~~